

Emergency medical workers get special training. Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) and Paramedics are trained to give first aid. Paramedics are also trained to give medicine to make you feel better or even save a life.

